MELEE AT BUCHANAN HOME AS CONSTABLE READ REPLEVIN WRIT

Arrest for Resisting an Officer Follows Sun- day Afternoon.

The home of Ed. Buchanan, 711 Munroe avenue, was the scene of considerable excitement Saturday evening when Constable Merton Squires with Oliver Boyer went to the house to serve a writ of replevin for a heating stove, the writ being issued in Justice Grover Gehant's court. When Mrs. Buchanan opened the door and discovered the constable, she is said to have tried to slam the door shut, but the officer had his shoulders in the doorway, with the legal papers in his hand, ready for service.

The constable states that Mrs. Buchanan seized him by the throat until her husband arrived and the latter than attempted to eject the officer from the premises. It was at this stage of the proceeding that Oliver Boyer was called upon by the constable, answered the call. Both men entered the house and Buchanan was overpowered by Boyer, according to the constable's story. Mrs. Buchanan, it is charged, directed her attention and energies on the face of Mr. Boyer, blacking both his eyes and pulling him over the nose. The melee is said to have finally subsided when Buchanan stepped forth from the dining room with a shot gun and ordered both men from his home.

Police Serve Warrant.

State's Attorney Keller was located and the constable related the story of the battle. Justice Martin Gannon was also called upon and a warrant charging Buchanan with resisting an officer while in the discharge of his duties was sworn out. The constable went to the county jail to have the sheriff serve the warrant, but found that officer in bed. The sheriff advised the constable that he would serve the warrant Sunday morning, but immediate service was wanted, and the warrant was then taken to the police station.

Yesterday forenoon, the police went to the Buchanan home, but did not find the man, he not being located until about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Chief Van Bibber and Officer Jones then found Buchanan at the football game. They attempted to serve the warrant, but were told that the serving of a warrant was illegal on Sunday, and according to the police, Buchanan attempted to get away. Officer Jones was detailed to take Buchanan to the station and mounted the running board of the Buchanan car.

Mrs. Buchanan then attacked the officer, it is charged, tearing his star from his overcoat, biting him on the hands and fighting as the car dashed away. The officer was not only obliged to maintain his hold on the car but by turns, handled the steering wheel and the gasoline feed, until he had his prisoner at the city building.

Justice Gannon was called and Buchanan's case was continued until this afternoon, he being released under bonds of $500 which were signed by Attorney H. A. Brooks.

CORNER-STONE NEW MEMORIAL IS LAID TODAY

President Harding is Speaker at Special Exercise.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 14.—Speaking today at the exercises attending the laying of the cornerstone for the new Victory Memorial, President Harding dedicated the structure as "a gathering place for Americans; where American minds begin the fulfillment of one of the striking provisions of the last will of George Washington which set aside a bequest for the founding of an institution to disseminate learning, culture and a proper understanding of right principles in government."

The president's address was given largely to an analysis of the less known attributes of the first president which, he said, made Washington "on his private and personal side, a very model of good citizenship."

"It is an impressive fact," Mr. Harding said, "worthy of our especial thought, that in the century and a half since Washington became the leader, the heart and soul of its struggle for independence and unity, this nation has so many times found occasions to record devotion to the precepts which he laid down for its guidance. So today, after more than a century's delay, we are come to pay tribute to the foresight which first encouraged and endowed the institution here established—an institution which is to be alike a monument to those who sacrificed in a noble cause, and a beacon to shed afar the light of useful knowledge and grateful understanding among men."

Court Order Enjoins I. C. C. from Stopping Higher Phone Rates

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Springfield, Ill., Nov. 14.—Permanent injunctions for binding the Illinois commerce commission to interfere with higher rates recently announced by the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. were granted in the circuit court here this morning. An appeal to the supreme court was immediately taken by the Attorney General on behalf of the commission.

Decision of this case will have effect on rate applications from more than 200 Illinois cities, beside the five cities where higher telephone rates have been announced. The commission last week ruled that higher rates must not be applied, and supplemented its temporary suspension of rates, with orders of permanent suspension. Such action, the Bell Telephone Co. contends, is not compliant with the law. The commission, the company said, re-suspended rates ten months, and instead of granting the desired advance or "another schedule" arbitrarily ordered permanent suspension.

The law, the telephone company says, is that the ten months temporary suspension there shall be a new rate, which the commission refused to grant, merely ordering that the old rates continue. Today's injunction forbids the commission from interfering with the higher rates, and forbids the imposition of fines and penalties where such increases are made. In effect today's decision is that under the law, rates filed by a public utility become effective ten months after filed, unless the commission, prior to the expiration of ten months, enters a final order finding the proposed rates unjust, and fixes others as fair and reasonable.

DIXON PEOPLE HURT IN AUTO MISHAP AT DEKALB SUNDAY P.M.

Adolph Eichler's Car Into Ditch and Over- turned.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Eichler and Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Wheeler of this city, were the victims of an automobile accident yesterday afternoon on the Lincoln highway, two miles west of DeKalb, in which all might have been seriously injured, but escaped with only a few minor scratches and bruises.

Mr. Eichler was driving the car. Mr. Wheeler sitting in the front seat with him. About two miles west of DeKalb, Mr. Eichler overtook a big truck in the middle of the paving. The truck had stopped until some repairs were made. The Dixon man applied his brakes, to slow down his machine and as he did so, the wheels skidded on the wet pavement. The car swerved from one side of the road to the other, left the pavement and turned over in a deep ditch along the side, alighting on its top.

Mr. Wheeler was the first to extricate himself and crawled out of the overturned machine. Mrs. Wheeler was rescued, but Mrs. Eichler, it was feared, was seriously injured. As soon as Mr. Eichler had been helped from the front seat, other motorists assisted in removing Mrs. Eichler who was hurried to a hospital in DeKalb. She was suffering from shock, however, and after two hours, left the hospital and returned to Dixon with the other members of the party.

The Eichler car, a five passenger Buick touring car, was removed from the ditch and taken to DeKalb. The machine was only slightly damaged, the top being the only part to suffer.

SAYS AMERICA MAKES BIGGEST SACRIFICE SHIP

Britain Called Upon for Least Sacrifice of All.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Nov. 14.—The American plan for a ten-year naval holiday and the scrapping of all but a limited number of warships calls for much less sacrifice on the part of Great Britain than by the United States and Japan, in the view of the naval correspondent of the Daily Mail.

Other correspondents point out that Great Britain has already taken the lead in the reduction of naval armaments, her progressive scrapping of warships since the armistice having amounted up to last April, to more than five hundred vessels, of which three hundred were destroyers. Statistics are printed to show that neither Japan nor the United States has gone very far in this direction.

All other news is insubordinated to the Washington dispatches in this morning's newspapers. The drastic proposals for naval limitation naturally hold first place, but the speeches of President Harding and Mr. Hughes are also fully reported, while other dispatches describe the effect produced in America and the attitude of the various delegates toward the American proposals.

FATTY ARBUCKLE PUT ON TRIAL FOR DEATH OF VIRGINIA RAPPE

Film Comedian's Case is Called in 'Frisco Court Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle, favorite motion picture comedian, went to trial today on a charge of manslaughter growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, motion picture actress, on Sept. 9. Scores of witnesses on both sides awaited the call to the stand.

The crowd began to surge early through the narrow corridors on the third floor of the hall of justice, where the trial court is held. Despite the fact that the admissions were limited to approximately 300, which included more than a score of newspaper men, hundreds picked points of vantage to glimpse the principals in the big legal drama as they went into the court room.

Start Delayed a Week.

The trial was to have started last Monday, but a local election and Armistice day so broke up the week that a postponement until today was granted.

In the two months that have elapsed since the commission of the alleged criminal act by Arbuckle, the defendant has been in prison for several days, has had a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder, which was reduced to the manslaughter charge on which he went to trial today, and has been made the defendant in a federal action charging the possession of liquor illegally. The federal charge remains to be tried, and will presumably await the action in the state court.

San Francisco—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle brought to trial in the superior court for manslaughter in charges growing out of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, a Los Angeles motion picture actress, occupied a prison cell here for eighteen days accused of the murder of the girl, until Police Judge Sylvain J. Lazarus reduced the charge to manslaughter and allowed him his freedom on $5000 bail.

Miss Rappe's death Sept. 9 from a ruptured bladder was the outcome of a drinking party she attended in Arbuckle's suite at the Hotel St. Francis the afternoon of Sept. 5. On this occasion, according to testimony in the police court hearing, Arbuckle and Lowell Sherman, another moving picture actor, were clothed in dressing gowns and pajamas or athletic underwear while Mrs. Bambino Delmont, who swore to the murder complaint against the comedian, also donated pajamas during the party.

When Miss Rappe retired from the room while the festivities were in progress, according to the testimony, Arbuckle followed her and about an hour later two of the women, Mrs. Delmont and Zeh Prevost, found her in distress in an adjoining room, the door of which was opened by Arbuckle in response to their knock.

Said She Was Dying

"I am dying. He hurt me," cried Miss Rappe, according to testimony of Miss Prevost and Alice Blake, who said the lay was lying on a bed fully clothed but tearing at her garments as she moaned and tossed. Arbuckle told her to "shut up" or he would "throw her out of the window," they said, and used ice in an attempt to restore her fully to consciousness.

Miss Rappe was taken to another room in the hotel and next day removed to a hospital where she remained until her death. Hospital nurses testified at the inquest that she accused Arbuckle of having injured her, but this testimony was not introduced at the police court hearing.

Nothing was shown at the preliminary hearing, according to Judge Lazarus, to connect Arbuckle with the charge of murder, which was brought under the California statute providing that a life taken in rape or attempted rape is murder. Judge Lazarus declared, however, that Arbuckle's conduct warranted holding him for manslaughter, as he might have committed battery.

A grand jury indictment for manslaughter also was returned against Arbuckle, although District Attorney Matthew A. Brady chose to try the defendant on the police court holding. The coroner's jury charged him with manslaughter.

Arbuckle's arrest later by prohibition officials on a charge of illegal possession of liquor was another incident in the case resulting from an investigation which the prohibition authorities laid before the federal grand jury. The liquor at the party was brought from Canada by a bootleg ring which operated on a large scale, officials said.

Gavin McNab, a prominent San Francisco attorney, is chief of counsel for Arbuckle. He was retained by motion picture interests to handle the defense.

Curtis Rice made a business trip to Forrester today.

FINE PROGRESS INDICATED FOR ARMS MEETING

Acceptance of Hughes' Plan Will Be Mov- ed Tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Great Britain's acceptance "in principle" of the American proposals for limitation of naval armament were definitely forecast today in a statement on behalf of the British delegation.

Japan's acceptance "in principle" at least has been forecast by statements by Baron Admiral Kato and others of the Japanese delegation.

Great Britain's principal consideration, it is understood in framing the reply which Mr. Balfour will make tomorrow, has been the question of what was to be done to bring France and Italy within the scope of the plan for limitations. The American delegates it is understood, impressed their British colleagues with the advisability of first disposing of the question as it affects the three principals—the United States, Great Britain and Japan.

Plan Procedure.

The conference of the heads of the five principal powers was adjourned at 12:30 o'clock, after having been in session for an hour and a half.

Secretary Hughes indicated that there might be some statement later in the day. It was indicated that the morning meeting was merely a general talk over the arrangements for detailed discussion of the problems to come before the arms limitation conference.

The delegates were to reconvene within an hour or two in conjunction with the heads of the other powers who have been invited to Washington to confer on Far Eastern and Pacific questions. The procedure of that conference also must be arranged.

Discuss Publicity.

Publicity for the proceedings of the conference was among the questions examined at today's meeting of the heads of delegations.

The position of the American delegation was understood to be open meetings in principle with frequent executive sessions for private discussions, the results whereof would be presented in open meetings. If at any time a delegation desired to present its detailed and considered views on any subject publicly the executive session would, on request, be turned into an open meeting.

Secretary Hughes, it appears, has outlined these suggestions to the heads of the various delegations and they meet today knowing in advance the American idea.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—While naval experts of the foreign powers today continue to examine the American proposals for limitation of naval armament, heads of the American, British, Japanese, French and Italian delegations conferred to map out a plan of procedure to expedite consideration of the whole armament question.

American officials emphasized that the plan presented to the conference on Saturday by Secretary Hughes was purely an American proposal, and that advance knowledge of it had been kept carefully from all the representatives of the other powers. Although it had become known that some far-reaching plan would be presented early in the conference, it was declared that no details either as to the basis of the proposal or the exact time of its presentation were permitted to reach any of the other delegates.

May Take Several Days

In consequence it was assumed that several days would be required for the naval advisors of Great Britain and Japan, the powers chiefly concerned, to prepare any estimate of the acceptability of the sweeping American proposals. It was indicated that today's meeting of the five heads of the delegation was not for the purpose of actually considering the plan, but rather was devoted to more or less routine discussion of a method of procedure.

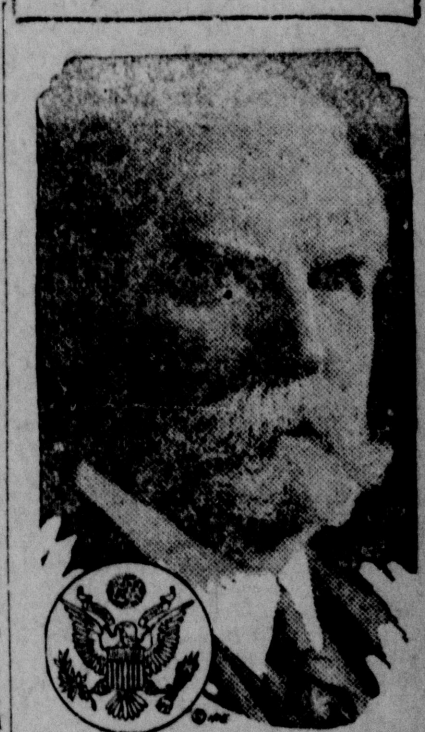

At the State Department there was every indication today that the public reaction from this government's first bold step in the conference had been entirely reassuring. Messages of praise and approval came to Secretary Hughes' office by thousands and the White House likewise was deluged with congratulatory expressions on the opening of the conference.

A synopsis of the proposal for armament reduction has been sent to American diplomatic and consular agents throughout the world for such use as they may deem expedient. It was explained that this step was another part of the effort of the American government to give the negotiations the widest possible publicity.

Meet Again Tuesday

With the next general session of the conference scheduled for tomorrow, the conference scheduled for tomorrow.

SHOWS THE WAY

CHARLES E. HUGHES.

Secretary of State and head of America's delegation to the disarmament conference, whose early submission of the United States proposal for reducing naval armaments took the foreign delegation by surprise Saturday. The United States plan will be accepted in principle, it was announced by British and Japanese delegates today.

Hughes' Proposals Discussed Today in United States Senate

Washington, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—Discussion of the American proposals for limitation of naval armament broke out in the senate today within an hour after it convened.

Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, a Democratic member of the foreign relations committee, brought up the subject, declared he endorsed the American plan "whole-heartedly."

"I regard it as the greatest step yet taken toward disarmament," he said.

The Ohio senator referred to his resolution for suspension of naval construction during the conference, declaring it would help and not embarrass the negotiations. He said he hoped the naval committee would soon report his resolution, otherwise he would move to discharge the committee and bring the resolution before the senate.

Senator Poindexter, Republican, of Washington, acting chairman of the naval committee, said that if congress had adopted Senator Pomerene's proposal when it was made last May, the present American proposals would have been precluded.

The discussion ended without any intimation of probable committee action on the Pomerene resolution.

Grain Prices Took Drop Near Close

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Wheat prices turned upward today in the early dealings after a hesitating start. Initial declines were ascribed to a lack of aggressive buying. Later, however, eastern interest took to the bull side with considerable force, and a general advance ensued, helped by prospects of a falling off in the U. S. visible supply total, continued drought southwest and a blizzard in Winnipeg. Opening quotations, which varied from unchanged figures to 3/4c lower, with Dec. 1.08 1/2 to 1.08 3/4 and May 1.12 1/2 to 1.13 1/4, were followed by material gains all around.

Heavy profit-taking and reports that foreigners were trying to re-sell hard U. S. winter grades at equal to Chicago December led subsequently to a sharp tumble in prices here. This close was weak, 3/4 to 3/8c net lower with Dec. 1.05 1/2 to 1.05 3/4 and May 1.09 1/2 to 1.09 3/4.

Scantiness of rural offerings to arrive had a bullish effect on corn. After opening unchanged to 1/4c higher, May 53 to 53 1/2, the market sagged a little, but then scored substantial gains.

Oats hardened with other grain, starting a shade off to 1/4c up, May 37 1/2 and then becoming firmer. Provisions were easy owing in the main to a setback in hog values.

Although the seaboard was after cash corn here, prices declined at the last with wheat. The close was easy 1/4 to 3/8c net lower with May 52 1/2 to 52 3/4.

THE FARMER FEEDS THEM ALL.
The politician talks and talks.
The actor plays his part.
The soldier glitters on parade.
The goldsmith pursues his art.
The scientist plagues his germs
O'er this terrestrial ball.
The sailor navigates his ship,
But the farmer feeds them all.

The preacher pounds the pulpit desk,
The broken reads the tape,
The tailor cuts and sews his cloth
To fit the human shape.
The dame of fashions dressed in silk
Goes forth to dine or call,
Or drive, or dance, or promenade,
But the farmer feeds them all.

The workman wields his shining tools
The merchant shows his wares,
The aeronaut above the clouds
A dizzy journey dares;
But art and science soon would fade,
If the farmer ceased to reap and sow
And commerce dead would fall,
For the farmer feeds them all.

DIXON GIRL MARRIES IN CHICAGO

The Mendota Reporter of Thursday, Nov. 10, prints the following article which we copy:

Mr. C. C. Brown, of this city, and Miss Helene Hyde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hyde, of Dixon, were united in marriage in Chicago, Saturday by the Rev. Gasser.

Mr. Brown is at the head of the contract department of this division for the Illinois Northern Utilities Co. and during his short residence in Mendota has made many friends on account of his genial disposition, businesslike manners and pleasing appearance. His bride is reckoned among the best of the young ladies of Dixon and her leaving the large circle of friends in that city has been the cause of much regret. However, the best wishes of all are extended to the bride and groom for a happy and prosperous married life.

They have taken apartments at the George Schmehr residence for the present and will soon be at home to their friends.

MR. AND MRS. GORMAN SURPRISED

About twenty-five friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Gorman north of Franklin Grove Friday evening, and successfully surprised them. After they recovered from their surprise, the house was thrown open to the guests, who arrived prepared, taking refreshments and arranging for music during the evening. Dancing and cards formed the amusements for the evening and a delicious scramble supper was served. The guests departed in the wee, small hours, tired but happy, every one declaring they had spent a most enjoyable evening.

TO ROAST BEEF

A rib is considered the best. The ribs may be left on and the roast is known as standing rib roast. The meat may be stripped from the bone and the ribs removed. This is known as a rolled rib roast.

Wipe meat with a damp cloth, rub with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and put in the roaster in a hot oven. The oven should be hot enough for the first fifteen minutes to completely sear the surface of the meat. Then reduce the heat and add enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. If a self-basting roaster is used the roast merely requires watching and turning from time to time to insure even roasting. If a self-basting roaster is not used baste every fifteen minutes with the drippings in the pan. To baste is to pour the juice from the meat over the roast by means of a big spoon. A roast that is not very fat should have very thin slices of fat pork put over it. Allow from an hour and a half to two hours time to roast a five-pound roast (rolled). Let the water cook away until clear fat is left in the pan. When the liquid in the pan stops bubbling the fat will be clear.

Pour off all the fat but two tablespoons. Stir in two tablespoons flour and let brown. Add water slowly, stirring constantly until the gravy is smooth and the right thickness. It will take about 2 cups of water. Stir over the fire for three minutes and add salt and pepper. Cook two minutes longer and serve in a gravy dish.

With a self-basting roaster in the bottom of the roaster should be dredged with flour. As the fat in the meat melts and drips the flour is absorbed and slowly becomes a rich brown during the roasting.

The most attractive refreshment for an evening party is the buffet supper. This allows the hostess to make the most of her dining room where she may use a definite color scheme in decorating her table.

The supper may or may not have a hot dish such as a timbale or patty, it should have a salad, sandwiches, sautéed nuts, little cakes, an ice and hot chocolate or coffee. The hot dish adds to the elaborateness but makes a lot more work and almost necessitates a competent cook in the kitchen. The supper of just salad may be prepared by the hostess before the party comes in and requires no maid in the dining room.

Buffet Supper Menu

Chicken patties, olives, jellied salad, brown bread and butter sandwiches, sautéed nuts, fancy cakes, peach par-fait, candy, coffee.

Jellied chicken salad, tiny pickles, ripe olives, assorted sandwiches, fudge, short cake, coffee.

Chicken Patties
One cold boiled chicken: ½ cup mushrooms, ½ cup butter, 1-3 cup flour, 4 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon mustard, paprika.

Discard all skin, bones and cartilage from the meat of the chicken. Cut in dice. There should be between three and four cups. Melt butter and stir in flour. Scald milk and add, beating with a wire whisk. Mix salt and mustard and stir in the sauce. Let boil five minutes. Add meat and mushrooms and make very hot. Serve in patty shells and sprinkle with paprika.

This amount should serve 12 or 14 persons.

Jellied Salad

Three cups finely shredded cabbage

Test the wheels for side play.
Rock the car to get it out of a rut.
Try to keep your eye an even distance ahead, to prevent eye strain.
The average length of a car's service is about six years.

Turn to the side in stopping behind another car.

Sudden stops in crowded traffic may result in a rear end smash.
The fan belt should be neither too tight nor too loose.
Side car taxis have become popular in London.

Underinflation does more harm to the tire than overinflation.
Protect the knuckles with cotton or old kid gloves.

While $1,103 new homes were built in 1920, 33,121 new garages went up during the same time.

Herd of Horses on Highway, Man Hurt

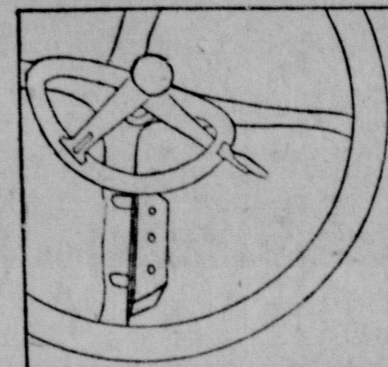

Charles Hansen, 222 East Sixth street, was badly injured in an accident on the Lincoln Highway about two miles east of the city last evening about 8 o'clock, while he was returning home. A horse dealer was driving several head of horses through on the highway and the Hansen car plowed into about 15 of the animals, which were following behind a wagon.

The horses were not badly injured but the Hansen car was almost completely wrecked. Mr. Hansen was cut about the face and hands with glass from the broken wind shield. His hands were badly lacerated and it may be necessary to amputate a finger on one of his hands. Bits of glass penetrated through the flesh and lodged in the bone of his hands.

Mr. Hansen was traveling west and while passing a car going east failed to use the dimmers. He could not see the horses which were only a short distance ahead of him and was unaware of their presence on the highway until his car plowed into them.

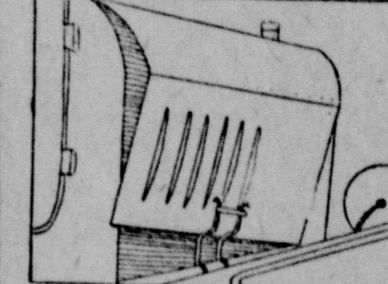

A tunnel will be built below the Suez canal connecting the Egyptian railways with the new line in Palestine.

SWITCH ON WHEEL

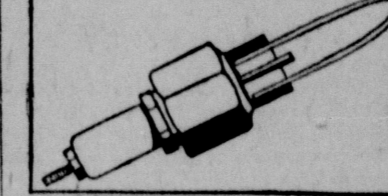

By a little mechanical ingenuity, the motorist can move the light switches from the dash to the steering wheel and make night riding more convenient and safer. With the switch on the wheel, there is no need of groping for the dimmer and bright light buttons. Also, both hands are always on the wheel and both eyes on the road.

SPRING HOLDS HOOD UP

A small spring-steel article, like that shown, may be used to keep the hood slightly raised while the automobile is being driven. It can easily be made of stout wire. A bend at the bottom grips the angle iron of the chassis and keeps the holder in place.

SPARK PLUG CLEANER

A piece of corset steel, bent U-shaped, will effectively clean carbon out of spark plug shells. It scrapes the surface clean, especially where gasoline and brush do not reach.

WASTE OILS SPRING

If a piece of oiled waste is placed between the springs and the frame, it will keep the spring oiled for several days. The jostling of the car squeezes

A WOMAN'S LOVE

The Mystery House stood at 90 Putnam avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. For six years no one was allowed to enter it.

Inside lived Mrs. Margaret Easton, widow of a rich insurance man.
When he died in 1915, she drew down all the shades over the windows of the three-story frame dwelling.

Thereafter she never left the house,
until the other day when pall-bearers
carried her out.

Few had seen her during her self-imposed hermit's life. When food was delivered she received it through a cautiously opened basement window.

Mrs. Easton stopped buying food.
Neighbors became suspicious. Detectives broke in. They found everything in the house, even the rugs, thickly coated with dust. In a rock-ing chair, peaceful smile on her face, was the old woman of 80 years, gone
to join her husband.

Searching the house, detectives found $50,000 worth of gems and bank books showing deposits of $300,- 000.

Charles Dickens could have built a great novel on this.

The Eastons were a very happy couple, pleasure-loving, contented
and prosperous. The reaction on Mrs.
Easton, caused by her husband's death, is one of the most interesting cases, in years, of the all-powerful control of the soul by that strongest of all emotions—love.

Nothing else really matters in life,
to a couple happily mated. Prosperity, adversity, disappointment, success—all these are incidentals.

Cynics deny love much that is claimed for it. That is because they go through life loving none but themselves.

That love is the only thing in life that really counts is proved by the perpetual search for it by all men and women, in all centuries, in all countries. Few find it.

What is love? No two people would give you the same answer. One calls it God, another beauty, a third happiness. Others say it is akin to hate. Still others call it the affinity of souls.

Ernest Haeckel, one of the greatest biologists, attempted to put love through a laboratory and prove that it is purely a chemical reaction. Some think he nearly succeeded.

The most interesting of the many peculiar theories about love was advanced by Socrates, wisest man who ever lived, through his reporter, Plato.

Socrates believed that a soul, coming into the world, is torn in two, one half a woman, the other half a man.
The two parts, ever yearning for soul reunion, wander the earth, seeking each other. If you find the right half you have love—supreme happiness.
If you get the wrong half, the lonely road becomes inviting.

THE NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE

The non-partisan league seems to have failed definitely in North Dakota. It failed in practice to do what was expected of it, and it has finally failed politically. The recent election puts the league out of business
as a going concern.

This is not necessarily final judgment pronounced against the league.
It is plausibly argued by leaders of the movement that it has not yet had a fair chance to show what it can do,
because of political opposition and economic hindrances. The State Bank of North Dakota, brought into being by the league, stays, the vote on the question of its liquidation having been favorable to the bank. But it stays under a new state administration, opposed to the league. The league's program, however mistaken
it may have been from the outset was directed against real evils of a

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

CLEANLINESS

WAYS TO KEEP WELL
BY DR. R. H. BISHOP

A clean body always stands the best chance of avoiding infections. The Japanese for a long time have had what appeared to be a very curious custom, but what since has been proved highly scientific. It is that of requiring their soldiers to bathe before going into battle. Their head has been more and more followed by western nations.

Clean bodies and clean clothes, it has been found, protect the soldiers from lockjaw and other infections that often follow wounds.

Bathing often and well is important for cleanliness. The hands, the face, and fingernails should be kept clean always, especially before meals. Any small cut or crack in the skin or mucous membrane—the material that lines interior cavities of the body such as the mouth and nose—may let in germs when the spot is dirty or is touched by dirty hands.

This is the reason why surgeons and physicians are so careful about their own personal cleanliness and that of their attendants, patients and instruments.

The need for cleanliness is particularly great for those who work in factories, mines and other places where dirt is likely to be carried to the mouth by the hands.

men are doomed to be bachelors, unless 2,000,000 women marry twice.

Bachelor ranks are decreased by great army of young ladies who marry before 21 and didn't show up in the nose counting.

YOU?

Of those Americans 21 years of older, 54,421,832 were citizens last year, hence entitled to vote, says the census.

How many actually voted for president?

Exactly 26,661,689!

More than half of those who might have voted for president failed to vote. This means, government by minority.

If you didn't vote, don't squeal.

PLUMP

Prince Iyesato Tokugawa heads the Japanese delegation to the disarmament conference. Because the conference will revolve around Japanese-American relations, he may be the most important personage at the meeting.

Next time you see his picture,
study it. He has a plump face.

Probably many diseases got a foothold in this way without the victim realizing in the least that they were due to his carelessness and lack of cleanliness.

Shaking hands, when the hands are soiled, probably spreads disease very considerably.

Here, as elsewhere, esthetics and health go hand in hand. A person who does not bathe daily is pretty certain to carry on his skin some preservation which, while he may be unaware of it, gives forth an offensive odor.

Cleanliness is promoted by prespiration prior to bathing. Every one knows the exhilaration which follows a healthy perspiration. Of course, the most beneficial method of securing perspiration is the method applied to the trotting horse—vigorous exercise. In fact, one of the benefits of exercise is perspiration.

When a person cannot or will not take exercise, perspiration can be induced by hot baths. Such extreme measures ought not, however, to be taken too often. How often will depend on the corpulence and other circumstances of each individual.

Sweating may be overdone, and should never be pushed to the extent of exhaustion. The function of the skin in removing wastes from the body is much less important than formerly supposed.

That's a good start. Plump people are easier to get along with, more open to reason, more willing to compromise.

"You Cassius hath a lean and hungry look. He thinks too much. Such men are dangerous."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

He moves right into the shell his victim has vacated.

One day Nancy and Nick went out to hunt Mr. Hermit Crab for Cap'n Pennywinkle. Not that the fairy problem cared where Mr. Hermit Crab was, but that he did care where Mr.
Whisk and Mrs. Whisk and all the it-ties Whisks weren't. For it's said to tell you, but true, my dear, that Mr. H.
Crab loves to eat whelks. He really and truly eats them out of house and home, and when he has filled up his greedy tummy, he moves right into the shell his victims have just vacated.
He selects the nicest, biggest, most comfy whelk-shell he can find and crawls in and goes to sleep until his dinner is digested. At supper time he wakes up, steaks out, finds another whelk family, and repeats the performance. Really, there was danger of the whelks being exterminated.
And that is what worried Cap'n Pennywinkle.

"You'll have to find Mr. Crab and bring him to me," he said to the Twins. "If he didn't hide so well, I could send Cutty Cuttlefish after him,
for Cutty likes crabs, just as crabs
like whelks, but he can't find him.
You can ask your Green Shoes to take you 'round to all the big shells, and you can peep inside, or, if necessary, go inside, as you can become as little as you like." Then when I see him, Mr. Hermit, show him your badge and tell him to follow you. He'll come meekly enough, for he knows he must do as I say. Then when I see him, I've got a lecture a mile long to read
to him about the error of his ways.
I'm going to keep law and order in Wiggles Land or I'm a Dutchman.
There, now, run along, Kiddies. Do your best."

Off started the Twins on another errand.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER XXV.

JIMMY'S ATTITUDE PUZZLES ME.
"Stand still! Don't move! Don't speak! Don't turn your head!"
I couldn't imagine what had happened, but I obeyed Jimmy as if he had been born to command me. In a minute he issued another order:
"Get me a big club! And some rocks!"

I turned. With a forked branch,
Jimmy was holding down the head of a serpent. In spite of my pretty philosophy about the harmless milk
snake, I had a horror of the genus.
And I shall never in my life get rid of the picture of Jimmy Alcott holding down that writhing serpent, stoically, heroically, while I found a club
for him and the stones.

I couldn't run for help. I couldn't leave him until I was sure he had saved himself as weak as me from the poisoned fangs.

The whole scene came back to me,
"a vision," while Bobby, the electrician, talked to me at the table in the studio restaurant.

In the midst of the gay crowd

My landlord's different than most.
Although perhaps I shouldn't boast,
But—well he takes it as his task
To do whatever I may ask;
He mends the roof, or paints the wall.
Repairs dining room and hall;
In brief, he seems to take a pride
In doing things as I decide.

My janitor is quite unlike
The kind you usually strike;
He keeps up steam, he tends the fire
Whenever it is my desire.
He never gives me any lip,
He doesn't ask or want a tip.
He feeds my dog, he feeds my cat;
Few janitors are nice as that!

You ask me, where are landlords
Who with such kindnesses abound?
And where do janitors exist
Whose virtues make so long a list?
The secret's plain enough to trace—
I am the landlord of my place,
I own my house—and, saving self—
I am the janitor myself!

ART OF BEING UNHAPPY

BY DR. WM. E. BARTON.

There is in the world enough of real sorrow to cloud the horizon of almost any man if he will let it do so.

There are experiences in life which are hard to bear and impossible to understand. But the cloud is small as compared with the sun.

The sources of human joy are many.
There inhere in every sense. They are ministered in food and sunshine
and song of bird and beauty of flower.
The occasion of sorrow are relatively few. They are real and they are painful, but they are not so many as life's joys.

Yet there are people who diligently cultivate a habit of mind which makes them oblivious to the joy of life and renders them keenly observant of its sorrows. They sedulously seek after the occasions of unhappiness. They compel themselves to be sad.

I am no advocate of artificial or even of superficial joy. I am no advocate of that kind of optimism which is based upon absence of thought or lack of courage to face life in its full meaning and content.

But I feel that the person who makes the most of life's miseries and the least of its blessings is a kind of traitor to the commonwealth of humanity.

We owe it not only to ourselves but to each other to be resolutely alive to all the reasonable joys of life. It is a part of genuine religion to teach men that life's good things belong to a good God, and are to be used and enjoyed.

Misery is not the normal condition
of human life. If we are miserable, it is in part at least because we are failing to make the most of that part of life which rightly used would make us happy.

Let us admit that no man can wholly escape sorrow. On the other hand a man must try hard if he wholly shuts himself out from the light of joy.

The heroes and heroines of life have been men and women who conquered pain and shame and lived triumphant lives radiant with a kind of serene joy.

We all have a right to share in that kind of happiness, and in some other kinds as well.

Don't cultivate the art of being unhappy.

making love, false love, mock love,
counterfeit love, or comparing booh formulas, or boasting about bets. I considered the cool beauty of that distant day.

Jimmy and I had shared that one unforgettable adventure, and more than one very happy hour. If he hadn't killed that rattler, as Jimmy, I would not have been there to watch him, as Dick, telling a joke to Ginette; and wanting him, with a big hurt at my heart, wanting him to come and talk to me!

I couldn't imagine why he was so unreasonable and illogical. Never a word about the old time. Never an inquiry about Motherdear who had been so nice to him.

Was Dick cruel? Like the characters he played? Or did he honestly prefer a girl like Ginette to a girl like me?

From that time, I encouraged Rose to gossip in my room. In no other way could I hear about Dick.

Rose always knew what the men of the company were talking about.
She had the news from Henry Larkin, her husband. The latest news had amazed the most envious actor Cissy had quit gambling! He had passed up the old betting bunch. Some of the men joined with Ginette in classing him as a piker.

But Rose said that when it came to a good time, Dick Barnes was no better than Cissy. If the whole company was like those two, it sure would be a dull bunch. The men averred that if Cissy kept on behaving and reforming, he'd be made a star pretty soon.

And Cissy ought to get married. But who would he marry? And Dick Barnes was another confirmed bachelor. He had been heard to say that he never would marry one of McMaster's stars.

Rose, who was a whiz at imitations,
user her husband's voice, then Cissy's, then Dick's and made me laugh, and then went away leaving me in a most uncomfortable state of mind.

So Dick Barnes would not marry a girl who had been made a star by McMasters.

What reason had he for making such an utterly ridiculous vow?

The first game of the Junior A tournament was sort of a seesaw affair, with the Katzenjammers leading in the first half, losing out in the second half to the onslaught of the Razberries. The game ended 16 to 12. Miller and Lowell made three baskets each for the Katzes. Boots Forrester led the scoring for the Razberries, caging the ball four times. Buckingham followed with three and Keller got one, which by the way was the first of the game. The second game was a tight one the Straphangers finally nosing out the Hooligans 4-3. Capt. Krug and Walman each made a basket for the Straphangers and Lough tossed her in once for the Hooligans the other point being made by Hoffmann who rang up a free throw.

Officials: Referee, Archer, scorers, Hilliker and E. O'Malley.

Both Junior Gym classes started off their basket ball tournament Saturday morning, the "B's" with 6 teams and the "A's" with 4. In both classes interest ran high and record breaking attendance resulted. The quality of the games gave promise of some real hot scraps before the titles are decided.

The first game was the biggest walkover of the entire day, the Wolfhounds drubbing the Foxhounds, 13 to 6. Larkin scored for the Wolfhounds making three baskets. G. O. O'Malley made 2 baskets and a free throw and Eddie Hilliker tossed in one ringer. In the second game the Bull Dogs had a little edge on the Souphounds and won 3 to 2 in the best of games of the day. This game was won in the last few seconds of the game when Capt. Kennedy tossed in a free throw. Worley made the other basket for the Bull Dogs and Zoeller made the only points for the Souphounds. The third game was forfeited to the Greyhounds as the Terriers failed to put in an appearance, having overslept, so they say.

Officials of the game were: Krug, Forrester and Welmann, referees and Hoffmann, scorer.

The Intermediates wound the day up with a victory over the Shamrocks. This game opened the season for the Intermediates and though they are getting an early start they played without too many errors, fumbles, etc. The game was fast and rough, a great many personal fouls being called and many fouls committed that were not called. The Shamrocks put up a good game everything considered and give promise of developing into a real team before the season ends. H. Kerz was the star when it came to playing the floor and Bremer in basket shooting, the latter making 4 ringers.

NINE BURNED TO

TENEMENT BLDG.Bodies of Victims Are Found Huddled in Doorway.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Nov. 14.—At least 9 persons are believed to have been burned to death in a tenement house fire early this morning. Five bodies, all unidentified, were found huddled together near a doorway on the fifth floor of the building, and firemen later found three more bodies, none of which was identified. Two men and one woman were seriously injured, while 30 others were treated for abrasions and shock.

The building, a five story tenement was occupied by fifteen families. Investigation showed the fire had originated in the basement and roared up through a shaft in the second floor, where it "mushroomed" spreading through the four upper stories of the building.

Many of the people who lived in the tenement groped their way to windows where they clung to ledges and screamed for help. Postoffice employees from a sub-station across the street saved many before the firemen reached the scene. One man became exhausted while clinging to a window ledge and fell to the street, suffering a fractured skull.

"Last winter a year ago I had pneumonia and came near passing away, and no one had but little hope of my recovery. But I finally got over the pneumonia, only to find my entire constitution weakened and my whole system was out of order. I had no appetite, was almost a complete physical wreck and, in fact, nearly helpless. I managed to pull through the summer and fall of last year, but when winter came it seemed that my days were about up. I took pneumonia again, and for two months I suffered something awful. Even after I was supposed to be well of pneumonia, I didn't gain any strength and suffered just like I did after the other spell.

"My son finally got to try Tanlac, and it is truly wonderful how quickly I began to get better. I am on my third bottle now, and my strength is rapidly returning. I sleep better, my nerves are much stronger and I am able to do some of my housework again. I only hope my statement may cause others suffering like I did to try Tanlac, for I believe it will help them just like it has me."

FUNERAL CLARK
L. GILL SUNDAY
WAS IMPRESSIVEWell Known and Respected Citizen Laid
to Rest.

(Contributed)

Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at his home on East Second street was held the funeral of Clark L. Gill, whose death occurred on last Friday, after an illness of many weeks.

Rev. Jesse Tibball of the Presbyterian church conducted the service. Mrs. Charles Bishop sang two songs "Jesus, Saviour Pilot Me," and the ever comforting "Abide With Me."

Mr. Gill was especially fond of young people and selected himself, a few days previous to his death, the six young men who acted as pall bearers. They were Charles McCarty, Everett Dutcher, John Kelley, Robert Sterling, Charles Bishop of Dixon and Stanley Morcom of Belvidere. All of these young men Mr. Gill had watched grow from boyhood to manhood with interest and pleasure. The last mentioned, Mr. Morcom had been associated in a business way with Mr.

Gill during the latter's residence at Belvidere.

For many years Mr. Gill was cashier for the W. H. Gossard Company, where he won the respect and friendship of all, proving himself worthy of both. The regard in which he was held by his friends was evidenced by the profusion of flower Handsome wreaths and set pieces were received from the head office of the Gossard company in Chicago, the Belvidere office and from the one at Dixon. Friends from Decatur, Normal, Bloomington and Madison, where Mr. Gill was well known, sent beautiful flowers as expressions of love and esteem, as did a host of Dixon friends.

The funeral services were largely attended by the many friends of Mr. Gill, there being a large contingent from the Belvidere, as well as from the local Gossard factory.

"To live in the hearts we leave behind, is not to die."

The memory of Clark L. Gill, sincere, kind and trustworthy, will long be revered.

In the issue of October 27, Mr. Ed. F. Summers, of the Advocate-Democrat of Marysville, Kans., says:

HAVE MADE FRIENDS

About three years ago the Standard Oil Company began a campaign of publicity which covered the whole country. No attempt was made to pay any attention to what had been charged up against the organization in that distant past, but a plain statement was sent out showing the attitude of the company, the diversity of its ownership and its policy in dealing with the public. And that campaign has been effective. No longer do you hear Rockefeller and the Standard Oil continuously roasted by the general public. Other "goats" have been picked up and in every section you will hear the admission made that the Standard Oil Co. gives service and piles up profit by being content to work on a small margin and develop a bigger business.

The experience is well worth thinking over for it goes to show what we have always contended and that is that the average man is fair and only wants to be shown. Take him into your confidence if your business is legitimate and you silence knocking. The Standard Oil has won favor by its policy of publicity and the favor is deserved.

THE spontaneous response which the announcements of this Company have received from many of the newspapers of the country has been most gratifying. That such a response has come from a better understanding of the Company, its purposes and its policies goes without saying. It is purely a matter of getting acquainted.

Those we do not know we are apt to suspect. Those we do know we respect if respect is deserved.

The Board of Directors intend that this Company shall deserve the respect of its customers, its employees, its stockholders and its competitors by maintaining a policy of fair dealing.

The operations of this Company are carried on with a straightforward directness, and with the deep conviction that bigness is possible only through service; that through service comes volume, and through volume come profits.

ingly sympathetic to human distress wherever it may exist, or we shall grope blindly for the light and lose our way. We pray for hearts lovingly sympathetic to human distress wherever it may exist, or we shall sink into the depths of a miserable selfishness. We pray for minds willing to believe that the strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, or we shall miss the great joy of service. We pray for the forward look or we shall be overwhelmed in hopeless pessimism. Give us the ability to think clearly, to judge fairly, to act wisely. Help us to think less often of our rights and more often of our duties and responsibilities.

"We pray at this hour on behalf of a world in sore need. Thou art not mindful of the sufferings of Thy people. The cries of multitudes of widows and orphans have come up before Thee, O God. We have had our terrible baptism of blood. There is hunger and pestilence and unutterable anguish. God forbid that the woes of these years should ever again be visited upon the earth. Can it be that Thou hast permitted us thus to suffer in order that we might turn from our own devices to Thee and acknowledge Thee as king of our lives and destinies. Out of the depths we cry unto Thee. Save us or we perish.

"May we walk softly and humbly before Thee this day and throughout the fateful days of this great conference. May we be intent on knowing Thy will; and knowing it, may we have the courage to do it. And may it be that the findings of this conference shall be so wise, so far-reaching and so beneficial that all mankind may take new hope and fresh courage. And to Thee shall be the praise and the glory forever and forever. Amen."

British Children Hope for Success of Disarmament Confab

New York, Nov. 12.—David Lloyd George, British premier, was saved from a bad attack of writer's cramp by remaining in England at the bedside of the Irish problem, it became known today.

The steamship Aquitania on which passage had been booked for him, came into port yesterday with several mail bags filled with postcards for him. Every one of them, 3000 to be exact, bore the name and address of some British lass who wished him godspeed and success to the arms conference. The postcards will be returned to the premier's Downing Street address, where he can attack the problem of replying to them at his leisure.

Hot Shot for Pres. Mine Workers Union

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 12.—Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois mine workers, today issued the following reply to a statement by John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers of America, made in Washington last night:

"If John L. Lewis was in Peoria as he was urged to be he would know that Illinois mine workers are not being misled by ranting demagogues, as stated in a Washington press dispatch, and he would also understand that it is useless for him to try to delude them by saying that those who are advising Illinois mine workers are doing so because of a desire to promote their political ambitions.

"I know of no one in Illinois who is desirous of succeeding President Lewis. There are a number of men here, however, who are doing their best to repair the wreck made of the miners' union by John L. Lewis, in his efforts to entrench himself politically in the United Mine Workers of America."

ARMS CONFERENCE IS OPENED WITH PRAYER BY BAPTIST DIVINE

God's Guidance in Deliberations of Delegates Invoked.

Washington, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—The prayer with which the armament and Far Eastern conference was opened today was offered by the Rev. W. S. Abernethy, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, Washington, and was as follows:

"Almighty God, we thank Thee for the coming of this eventful day. We have seen it from afar and now we rejoice that it has at last dawned. May it bring untold blessing to a troubled world. O Thou Omnipotent One, as in other days, we believe that Thou dost guide in human affairs. Thou hast made of one blood all nations that dwell upon the earth, and though we are of many races and many tongues, yet the interests of the few are the interests of the larger number. May we feel assured that the welfare and happiness and prosperity of the human family are inexpressly dear to Thy heart. We pray for clear vision or we shall grope blindly for the light and lose our way. We pray for hearts lov-

"The Old Nest"

Rupert Hughes Heart-Gripping Story of Home

The Mother Whose Children No Longer Seemed to Want Her

Suddenly they have all grown up and left her—the babies she used to tuck in bed at night. The old house is empty and silent. All have forgotten her. Her birthdays pass unnoticed.

Each child has embarked on a drama of his own. Loves, ambitions, temptations carry them away. There are moments of laughter and comedy, romance, adventure, tragedy. The story of their lives sweeps you along.

Your life—your home—your mother—as they might have been or as they are. "The Old Nest" will awaken deep in your heart memories of the mother to whom you ran with your childish troubles.

Never before has the screen touched with such beauty and dramatic force a subject which finds an echo in the lives of every one of us. One of the most heart-gripping dramatic stories ever narrated.
